Mike and I are dating. I do like him but he's led such a nomadic life, I wonder if he's just playing with me and then he'll disappear when he's bored.

I've introduced Mike to my sister Maddy and Roscoe, her fiance. They're both sport-daft like him, I'm hoping they'll help talk him into staying. I'd like him to start his own business, he's got really good ideas, he just needs to do it. I'd like him to stay.

Mike's still here, I think the reason he won't say for definite if he wants to stay or not is because of his sister. He sees this as her territory and doesn't want to butt in. I don't get his family relationships, they're way too complex for me. I have 2 brothers and 5 sisters and we all have to get on! And we do on the whole.
