

Nimrodol

Nimrodol was the beloved of Amroch, last Silvan Elf lord of Lórien. She lived near the river in a tree-house. When she left for Edhellond, to join her lover Amroch and leave from Middle-earth for Valinor the Balrog appeared in Moria and she was slain while crossing the Ered Nimrais.

After Nimrodol and Amroch had both been lost the river was named after her. This river began in the foothills of the Níchaegûr under the mountain Celebdil, and then flowed through Lórien until it met the Celebrant.

