

Rúmil

Rúmil is a Loremaster of the Noldor living in the city of Tirion. Rúmil was the first Elf who invented writing; he invented the alphabet called Sarati. This alphabet was later expanded and perfected by Feanor as the Tengwar.

Rúmil was also a skilled linguist, and when the Teleri finally arrived in Valinor he was first to discover just how the Telerin language had changed from Common Eldarin compared to Quenya, and armour in Valinor.
